A feature of the trip to the pyramids is the trained Egyptian donkeys and donkey soys, which make a perrect picture of the front of Shephead's Hotel, at Cairo, and the track along the Nile.

The piece is full of bright and sparkling songs, and can apily be termed "a musical spactacle." The company includes an array of artistic talent that is a guarantee of the worth and attractiveness of the play, and which fully explains its wonderful success before metropolitan audiences. The scenery is all new, and the production of the best known scenic artist in America, and is transported in a car specially constructed for Mr. Phou, and adapted to carry in safety the magnificent "seis" of "Off to Egypt." A Happy Wedding—The River Trade —Personal Notes.

Byland Chapel Church was filled fastde and out with friends of Mr. W. Frank Walker and Miss F. Addic Tune, one of the most esteemed young couple in Bouth Washington, to witness their marriage, which took place at that church at Sociock last alght. All day yesterday the ladies of the durch, of which the bride was a Sunday-school teacher and the groom a member, were engaged in decorating the church for the occesion, and last night syland Chapel never presented a more beautiful appearance. The altar was profusely covered with exotics and choice dowers, while twined about the pillars was the honey-suckle, which stretched its way along the railing of the gallory, almost hiding it from view. Buspended from the ceiting, in front of the altar, was a novelty in the way of an umbrella made of the choicest flowers, underneath which, while kneeling, the happy couple were made one, the Rew, Mr. Chapman performing the benediction. The usual custom of bridesmaids and gromsmen, was dispensed with, only the services of the ushers (Mesers, W. 1. Tune, Harry Walker, B. L. Gessford and Charles II. Davis being required. After the coromony was performed the bridal party were driven to a neat little cottage at the corner of Eleventh and Estreets coultwest, which Mr. and Mrs. Walker propose to make their home for the greent, where a recoption was held, only the families and a few intimate triends being present. The presents were numerous, being about 200 in number, most of which were of a very useful character. May their future be crowned with happiness.

Wall Street Gossip.

New Yors, Dec. 4.—The Times says: Statements made before the directors of the New York Central Railroad at their meeting yesterday showed carnings for the fiscal year ended September 30 amounting to 3 21-100 per cent. on the capital stock. The amount paid in dividends was 7 50-100 per cent. The reports were criticised because taxes to the amount of $300,000 and other items amounting to $000,000 were omitted from the debt account. The capital stock being $90,000,000, these omissions amount to one per cent, making actual earnings applicable to the dividends only 4 21-100 per cent. Mr. Vanderbill, who, from information given him of the road's operations, expected that a 6 per cent, dividend had been earned, is said to have expressed strong disapproval of the omission of the two items mentioned. It was also developed at the meeting that the business of the road for November shows a gross decrease of $400,000 from the same month in 1883. The tonnage is maintained, but the de-decrease of $400,000 from the same menth in 1883. The tonnage is maintained, but the de-fletency is caused by lower rates. The whole financial statement is accepted as showing the serious demoralization caused by the war in passenger and freight rates during the past few months. New York Stock Market.
